dental care

February is

DENTAL month!

Did you know?

- Dental disease is the most common problem in our pet population today. Over 85% of dogs and cats are affected by dental disease.
- Bad breath (Halitosis) is the most common sign of oral disease and is most often caused by periodontal disease (inflammation or infection of the gums or bone around the tooth)
- Without proper dental care, most pets develop dental disease
- Dental disease can negatively affect your pet's heart, kidney and liver
- It can also cause severe pain, which most pets can mask
